Energy Startup Day in the afternoon

The Energy Startup Day is an annual event showcasing ~40 startups from the energy, cleantech and mobility sectors to 200 representatives from the private and public sectors. The promotion of networking and collaboration between startups and established companies has already led to numerous collaborations and even takeovers. With the focus on networking, the majority of the time in the afternoon is for pitches interspersed with open discussion sessions. The event has received top ratings from participants in recent years and has grown strongly since its launch in 2015.
